“Cardboard dreams – the sustainable levity of design” is the title of the first solo exhibition dedicated to architect and designer Giorgio Caporaso, who is on this occasion exhibiting his Ecodesign Collection objects and furniture.

A journey that starts from the dream, the intuition of a world in which aesthetics and environmental sustainability can coexist happily. A horizon which in Caporaso becomes the destination of choice for a creative journey, based on the research of shape, function and materials, and that turns out to be strongly oriented to the essential, the change and the expression of an eco-friendly soul. A path that has brought him to create transformable and multifunctional objects able to live a long time, following the changes in people's lives, and therefore easily reusable in different ways. Tangible predilection for recycled and recyclable materials such as cardboard and natural materials, in products that can be disassembled and separated with ease for recycling and garbage separate collection. In Caporaso's works everyday objects bring to our homes not only an extremely refined design, but also a sensory pleasure combined with the ability to express his taste in furnishing and customize homes, work spaces and meeting places. All of this also bringing an important message of awareness towards the environment and towards more eco-friendly lifestyles.

The exhibition will display Giorgio Caporaso's Ecodesign Collection furniture (by Lessmore, www.lessmore.it). From the “classic”, such as the MORE system and X2CHAIR chaise-long, to the versatile intimism of the TO BE vase.
